For Students & Staff

International Credit Mobility

International Credit Mobility under Key Action 1 provides opportunities for students, teachers, and staff of higher education institutions to participate in short-term academic exchanges, such as study periods, teaching assignments, or training and professional development activities.

Joint Master's Programs

Joint Master's Programs, also under Key Action 1, enable higher education institutions to develop and offer joint master's degree programs in collaboration with partner institutions from other countries. These programs provide students with the opportunity to study in multiple countries and obtain a joint or multiple degrees.
